

St. Hildegard was a Benedictine nun and mystic who had visions and obediently preserved them in writing.

She composed works on medicine and physiology.

St. Hildegard composed many pieces of music because she believed music was a special gift from God to help save mankind.

St. Hildegard von Bingen

1098 - 1179

Feast Day September 17